Secretary of the Navy Daniels today elterated his determination to make Philadelphia safe for bluejackets and marines. He has ample powers, he seclared, and unless the city authorities act upon his expose of vice and liquor conditions he will not hesitate to take drastic action. If necessary, he said, he can make the whole city dry, but he does not contemplate being forced to this ex-treme. He is not, as is believed in ome quarters, restricted to a five-milcone limit, but can prohibit the sale

Another course open to him is to make Philadelphia a forbidden territory—that is, prohibit sailors and marines from landing there. This was done at Mare Island, Vallejo, Cal., being on the "blacklist" for six months because conditions he complained of were not corrected.

It was learned today that Secretary in authorities some time ago, but action resulted. He then pressed his investigation and formally noti-fied the authorities that conditions must improve, at the same time giv-ing his finding to the press.

In connection with the Philadelphia situation the Secretary let it be known today that he contemplates livorcing the marine barracia from pavy yards altogether. The plans, which will be put in effect as soon as possible, is to leave at navy yards only enough marines to do guard duty. establishing the barracks at other points.

FOOT POWDER MAKES A POOR FLOUR SUBSTITUTE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 1.—The substitution of a ton of foot powder for flour in making a batch of bread here recently proved successful only in arousing suspicion temporarily among the boys that they were the victims of another German plot.

No one knew what was the matter with the flour. It was thought merely that some one had sold the Gov-and insisted that the ton of foot powder be produced. So far as is known the powder is quite harmless. Just how much of it was eaten is problematical. The partly empted sacks now are being rounded up and sent out where they will be of more service than in the baker's kitchens. The quartermaster's department in the rush to get supplies forward, had mistaken a shipment of the unlabeld powder for flour, of which there was no criminal charge against her. She was never arraigned.

Scoff at Saielde Theory.

Government officials scoff at the theory that Mme. Storch died a suicide. Since her arrest on March 18, her physical condition had gradually weakened under the strain to which she was subjected.

The Turkish beauty contracted a cold one night after a crying spell, and pneumonia set in. In her despondency, officials say, the woman made no effort to combat the trouble, desiring death rather than a further contest with the law.

There was no criminal charge against her. She was never arraigned.
